

Riskus to Teach Bike Diving

All American rider Steve Riskus is currently holding a series of lectures entitled: Bike Diving, An Intimate Look. Steve is fresh off a tour that has been hailed by critics and participants alike as nothing they have ever encountered before. Said one student, "I thought I knew alot about crashing, but Steve tought me things I honestly didn't know could be done on a bike." Interjected Professor Riskus, "I don't really teach crashing. I mean, what this is all about is bike DIVING. Crashing implies an accident, bike diving, on the other hand, implies artistic intent. I mean look at these pictures. Does this look like an accident?"
